SECOND SUNDAY OF EASTER

DIVINE MERCY SUNDAY

The second Sunday of Easter is known as Divine Mercy Sunday. It is celebrated all over the world. The message of this day is simple: God loves us. He loves each one of us uniquely and completely. We are told in John's Gospel that when Jesus rose from the dead and appeared to the disciples He showed them the holes in His hands and his feet. This was to prove to them that it really is Jesus standing before them; the one who was crucified and buried is now alive. The marks of His crucifixion remain in His body. But these wounds witness to much more than the torture and death He suffered. The nails and lance were thrust into Jesus' body because of hatred and sin. The holes they made now testify to the power of His life; a power so great that it conquers even sin and death. The resurrection of Christ is not only a new life; it is a new way of living brought about through forgiveness and reconciliation. The marking of Divine Mercy Sunday helps us to recognize that God's mercy is greater than our sins. We can call upon Him with trust and receive His mercy. We can also become instruments of God's mercy enabling His mercy to flow through us to others.
On this day, and indeed every day: Ask for God's Mercy. Be merciful to others. Trust in Jesus; He loves you.

FROM THE CENSUS DEPARTMENT: The census information you provide helps planning for health, education, transport and housing. It also helps councils provide resources for their communities. If you live in a rented flat or rooms, you must complete your own return. It is NOT for the landlord to do. Your information is private and cannot be shared with the government or Police. It will not be passed to the Home Office, any company that works for them or the Tax authorities. You can do the census online or ask for a paper form. The details are contained in your letter, but if you need help there is a census support centre at People First Advocacy Centre, Milbourne Street, Carlisle. You can call them on 01228 550696 for help to complete your return or if you need language support. It is important that you complete the census for your own family as if you do not complete the return you could face a £1000.00 fine.
You can get more information from www.census.gov.uk or from the Census Engagement Manager, Gary Brady 07452 934179
